DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/15/07 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 29-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over USPN 5,226,915 Bertin in view of USPN 5,776,201 Colleran et al.

Bertin discloses the invention substantially as claimed being a knee implant. Bertin discloses the use of multiple knee implants all having a constant maximum interior anterior to posterior dimension (20) but having varying maximum outside anterior to posterior dimensions. Bertin also discloses using inserts to vary the thickness of the condyle to provide a constant maximum interior anterior to posterior dimension (20). This is all shown in figures 3-5 and described in the last two paragraphs of column 6. However, Bertin does not disclose the tibial or bearing components.

Colleran teaches the use of a knee implant comprising a full set of femoral prosthesis having matching tibial and bearing components in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of providing a complete knee replacement kit.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the remainder of the knee components as taught by Colleran with the variable structure of Bertin in order to provide the surgeon with a more complete kit for knee reconstruction.

In reference to claims 30 and 31, since the applicant fails to specifically define the meaning of the a posterior stabilized femoral component and the fully constrained femoral component, they are being viewed in a very broad manner. Therefore the femoral components disclosed by Bertin are being considered to be a first cruciate component, a posterior stabilized femoral component and the fully constrained femoral component. The applicant is advised to refer to section 211.01 of the MPEP for further clarification of the manner in which the claim is being interpreted.
